

00:30:41 Stuart Newman: Engels?
01:09:02 Samir Okasha: I've got to go, sorry to leave early. Thanks for the paper and presentation Phillip 01:09:26 Scott Gilbert: The book I had mentioned is Weber, B. H. and D. J.
Depew (eds.) Evolution and Learning: The Baldwin Effect Reconsidered. MIT Press. My paper in that volume argues that plasticity may have been selected as a protective mechanism, wherein we humans could plan for future events that had never happened.
01:24:06 Aaron Novick: Gotta run, full schedule today, but thanks for the chapters and discussion, Phillip!
01:24:31 Richard Richards: Interesting stuff Phillip. Thanks. Gotta run, administrative obligations.
01:31:48 Christopher Donohue: Phillip and everyone, I have to run to another meeting. Thanks very much for the interesting talk and discussion 01:39:41 Auguste Nahas: Thanks very much for the discussion, unfortunately I need to jump into another meeting 01:46:36 dylan.belton@villanova.edu: Have to run as well to another meeting. Thanks again for letting me join today!
01:50:23 Joel Velasco: I have to leave now - thanks Phillip (and others).
Sorry I couldn't really participate today.
01:51:37 Carlos Lopez-Beltran: I have to leave too. Thanks Philip and everybody.
01:59:57 Zdenka Brzovic: maybe you can go on and i will try to fix this 02:00:29 Chris Stephens: Zdenka we can hear you but it was just quiet..
02:04:10 Alan C Love: Have to run. Thanks!
02:08:05 Chris Stephens: I have to run - thanks again for the talk and papers!
